

Are you currently using cash, checks, or money orders to pay alcohol vendors? Go touch-free with your beverage alcohol payments today with Fintech's no-cost Distributor Autopay program.

Keep your workplace safe. Paying your alcohol invoices electronically with Distributor Autopay allows your team to practice necessary social distancing procedures and reinforces the safety of your workforce, distributors, and customers.

Eliminate cash, checks, and money orders. When utilizing Distributor Autopay, you not only add a layer of protection for your employees by going touch-free, but you also reduce security risks associated with prepping manual payment.

Speed up deliveries. Through Distributor Autopay, your invoices are paid electronically, so teams are not dependent on management to be present to get into the safe or issue payment at the time of delivery.

Automate regulatory compliance. Distributor Autopay pays all your invoices automatically on the due date listed, so your stores remain in compliance with all state regulatory laws.

Ready to sign up for touch-free payments?
Visit go.fintech.com/distributorautopay to get started.

Contact us today to learn more about transitioning your business to touch-free alcohol payments with Fintech.

